

CEGESTI certifies once again its quality management system

With the purpose of demonstrating our commitment to satisfying our clients and the continuous improvement of our quality system effectiveness, CEGESTI has been assessed once again on March 8-9, 2016 for re-certification purposes with ISO 9001: 2008, obtaining excellent results since any non conformity has been found.

The adoption of a Quality Management System is a strategic decision that supports the overall performance of an organization and provides a solid foundation for sustainable development initiatives.

In the case of CEGESTI, its system has been certified since June 2004. This tool has facilitated the provision of services that fulfill and exceed the requirements and expectations of customers and other legal, regulatory and signed requirements.

The system was tested and re-certified by the Société Générale de Surveillance United Kingdom Ltd. Systems & Services Certification (SGS), following the schemes established by the accreditation body of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland (UKAS). The scope of the certified quality system of CEGESTI includes the design and provision of services of information disclosure, research and knowledge transfer, capacity building, consulting, training and policy influence in natural resources and biodiversity, responsible business, responsible investment, good business practices, sustainable procurement, innovation, responsible consumption, sustainable development and social responsibility; and has a validity period from June the 8th 2016 to September the 15th 2018.
